

GIGATRUST AND ARABIC COMPUTER SYSTEMS ENTER INTO STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

Arabic Computer Systems to support GigaTrust solutions in Saudi Arabia

HERNDON, Va., October 3, 2007 – GigaTrust (also known as GigaMedia Access Corporation), the Intelligent Rights Management™ products and services company for corporate e-mail and content security, today announced that it has entered into a partnership with Arabic Computer Systems (ACS) Ltd. to have ACS resell and support GigaTrust products and services in Saudi Arabia.

Both GigaTrust and ACS focus on the enterprise, with GigaTrust providing software for companies that want to build and manage a Microsoft Rights Management Services (RMS) deployment. GigaTrust helps its customers take RMS beyond the enterprise network by offering solutions that enable a secure content supply chain collaboration all the way to – and onto – the BlackBerry.

“ACS is a premier IT systems integration and solutions company, and we are pleased to partner with them to deploy and manage GigaTrust’s enterprise solution in Saudi Arabia,” according to David Kesick, GigaTrust’s vice president of international corporate development. “We have the utmost respect for them and their abilities and believe this is a strategic move for GigaTrust to expand our solutions beyond North America.”

According to Ibrahim H. Al-Zeer, Managing Director of National Technology Group (NTG) ACS parent company, the partnership with GigaTrust offers ACS the opportunity to expand its solutions for customers in Saudi Arabia. “We are always ready and willing to partner with trustworthy solutions providers which will help us expand our offerings to our customers here,” Al-Zeer said. “This new partnership is good for ACS and for our customers.”
